Details:

I am a British graduate and fluent in Italian. I have twenty years experience teaching English at all levels, from 4 year-old children to professionals. I write most of my teaching material and have written a book on English pronunciation which has enabled Italian adults and professionals such as medical doctors to master English pronunciation in just 8 hours. I also write stories in English for all my younger students. I am also a professional translator and work online for some of Italy's leading newspapers, including Milano Finanza. All courses for adult professionals can be undertaken online, including English pronunciation (8 hour course) technical-scientific writing in English, speaking skills for conferences. Made to measure courses can also be prepared. My diary of my travels in Sri Lanka has been published by a prestigious publishing house based in Vienna. Willing to transfer abroad if necessary. Patient and understanding.
